CancerOptions

Is a private cancer consultancy working at the forefront of integrative cancer treatment developments

Your guide to the services, information and support offered by the worlds most experienced and respected resource for all approaches to dealing with cancer

We are the only Independent service that has the skill and knowledge to look at both orthodox and cam approaches to cancer and bring you the following:

A complete appraisal of your orthodox treatment options, new and cutting edge treatments / clinical trials.

What that means in real terms for you, what going on a clinical trial can mean in real terms.

An honest opinion as to whether the balance of benefit over cost is in your favour.

Introduction to treatment methods you may not have been made aware of and advice on how to access the top specialists and work the cancer system to your best advantage.

A realistic look at what short and long term side effects may emerge from the orthodox treatment offered and how much of that can be offset by an integrative programme

If you decide that orthodox treatment is not your route we can discuss all other options available to you and help you put together the best treatment programme for you

Support programmes for all methods of orthodox treatments to get the best results and emerge as unscathed as possible

Picking you up where you are | guiding you towards a healthier future
